ally developed in the north-central and northwestern parts of the county. The largest continuous body occurs east and south of Victoria, parallel to Poa River. Other areas occur along the course of Poa Creek and northwest of Tabernacle Church. Practically every stream in the northern portion of the county is bordered by this type, but in some cases the areas were too narrow to be represented on the map.

The Susquehanna fine sandy loam is derived from sedimentary deposits which were laid down prior to the Lafayette. They consist of disintegrated argillaceous shales or indurated lates. Limestone fragments frequently occur in the subsoil, and along some of the steeper escarpments outcrops of limestone were observed, especially in the northwestern part of the county. It seems probable that at least a portion of this type is derived from limestones.

The native growth upon this type is chiefly pine, red oak, post oak and hickory. The occurrence of moss-covered oaks is especially characteristic of the shallow pools of this type.

Areas of this type are characterized by an undulating to moderately rolling surface, except where they occur as bluffs or escarpments along the streams and around stream heads, where erosion is excessive. The latter conditions give rise to the "held play" hills, in which the subsoil is exposed at the surface. These areas would have been correlated with the Susquehanna clay had they occurred in large enough bodies to warrant their separation.

The following beautiful version of the Lord's Prayer was found in the South during the Civil War. The copy was very easy satin, and bore the date of July 4, 1823. The copy was taken from the original, which was picked up by a boy in Corinth, Miss., May 20, 1863, the morning the army evacuated the city:

Thou, to the Mercy Seat, our souls doth gather To do our duty unto thee,
OUR FATHER
To whom all praises, all honor, shall be given,
For thou art the great God,
WHO ART IS HEAVEN
Thou, by Thy goodness, makes the world's wide fam Forever, therefore,
HALLOWED BE THY NAME, Let nevermore delays divide us from Thy Glorious grace, THY KINGDOM COME,
But let thy commands opposed be by none, Thy good pleasure and THY WILL BE DONE
And let our promptness to obey be even
The very same
ON EARTH AS IT IS IN HEAVEN
Then, for our souls, O Lord, we also pray That thou wilt be pleased to GIVE US THIS DAY
The food of life, wherewith our souls are fed, Sufficient raiment and
OUR DAILY BREAD,
With every useful thing thou dost relieve us,
And of thy mercy, pity
AND FORGIVE US
All our misdeeds, for Him, whom Thou dost please To make an offering for OUR TRESPASSES
And, forasmuch, O Lord, as we believe That thou wilt pardon us
AS WE FORGIVE
Let that love teach, wherewith Thou acquaint'st us To pardon all THOSE WHO TRESPASS AGAINST US.
And though, sometimes, Thou findest we have forged This love for Thee, yet help
AND LEAD US NOT
Through soul and body want to desperation, Nor let earth's life drive us INTO TEMPTATION.
Let not the soul of any true believer Fall in the time of trial
BUT DELIVER
Yes, save them from the snare and malice of the devil, And both in life and death keep US FROM EVIL
Thus pray we, Lord, for that of the devil This may be had,
FOR THINE IS THE KINGDOM,
This world is of Thy work its wondrous story
To Thee belongs
THE POWER AND THE GLORY
And all Thy wondrous works have ended never,
But will remain forever and FOREVER,
Thus we, poor creatures, would confess again,
And thus would say eternally,

The Advertiser Again Discusses High Taxes.

The Monthly Advertiser on last Thursday, discussed again the question of high taxes, and the Clipper believes that The Advertiser will yet come up to the position of The Clipper on this question. The trouble with The Advertiser is that it is inclined to go back to 1907 and charge Gov. Comer for the present condition of affairs. It recognizes the Clipper's position, but The Advertiser does not want to place the blame where it properly belongs—on Gov. O'Neal and his legislature. It says:

"We never had these excessive tax raises until Governor Comer and his legislature set the fashion of making heavy appropriations, and created a State Tax Commission to wring the money from the property owners to pay these excessive appropriations. It would seem that any State interest can unite in the general wholesale raids made on the treasury, when the Legislature meets, and gets its share. The tax system can be stopped. The tax payer can stop it. He can stop it by raising and asserting himself. As the man who pays the bills he should rise and demand a government economically administered, and he should see that the next legislature has some sound and sane ideas on public expenditures. And he had better start about it right now."

It says Mr. Comer and his legislature set the "fashion" of making heavy appropriations. If Governor set the "fashion," what about O'Neal following it up and even going beyond what Comer ever did?

What about the governor's mansion costing $50,000.00? What about raising the governor's salary? We remember Comer opposed that. What about new offices and numerous increase salaries during Gov. O'Neal's administration? What about larger appropriations to Normal colleges and agricultural schools? What about additional capital improvement expenses? What about new courts and numerous appointive offices created?

Most certainly the Advertiser cannot charge Mr. Comer with all these things. Who is responsible for the present depleted condition of the treasury of Alabama? Let the Advertiser be fair, even to Mr. Comer. He is not governor of Alabama now, and the Advertiser is not consistent when it jumps back to 1907 and there dates the cause of present conditions in Alabama.

The Clipper will not charge the Advertiser with being ignorant in these matters, for the Advertiser knows better. Let the Advertiser be fair and put Gov. O'Neal in for his share of the responsibility for the present condition of affairs.

The Advertiser very appropriately says: "As the man who pays the bills he should rise and demand a government economically administered, and he should see that the next legislature has sound and sane ideas on public expenditures."

Here is where the Advertiser comes up to the position of the Clipper, and if the Advertiser will take another advanced step and admit as it should, that Mr. O'Neal's legislature was not an ideal one along this line, then it will have come into harmony with the views of the Clipper and every thing will be lovely, and there will be no further room for difference or controversy between the Advertiser and the Clipper.

A big new line of ladies' neckwear just received. Come and look them over.

Elba is the best cotton market.

Every right thinking man is for good roads.

Taxation without representation is unjust in Alabama.

The boys of the farm are the hope of the nation.

Education without training is not worth so much.

Prospects are now fine for the election of a democratic president in 1912.

Hotels in Birmingham will now become licensed saloons under the Smith regulation law.

A man with nothing is usually against everything. Can you blame him?

The man with nothing but five boys is fighting to keep them slaving on the public roads.

When Coffee begins building good roads everything will then tend toward prosperity.

On September 16th, the voters of Coffee will have the opportunity of declaring themselves in favor of better public roads.

To be a farmer is a great thing in this country, and to be a farmer for good roads is a mighty sensible thing.

The people are not to be fooled much longer by the designing politicians; they are beginning to think with their own heads.

It took some folks a long time to quit plowing with a scowder plow, but we are yet doing things more foolish.

We are for the man who is for himself. If a man is against himself he really does not deserve help, but needs pity.

"A rolling stone gathers no moss," but a "moss back" has never turned over to the side of progress and prosperity.

We are not worrying about the result on the 16th of September.
Good roads is the chief topic of conversation, and the people are going to have them.

There is no better county in Alabama than Coffee. Its lands are unsurpassed in agricultural variety and value. What needs above everything else now are good roads. The only way to get these is by floating bonds. Experience demonstrates this truth.

The Elba Public School will open on the 18th of September.

The lawmakers who passed Alabama's slavery system of public road laws, if now living, would be ashamed of them.

Poor country boys and hard-working fathers of the country districts are keeping up the roads for the people who enjoy the wealth of the land.

Under the present road law of Alabama a father who has five sons gives 15 years of service on public roads before they reach their majority, three years each.

Houston County will vote on the whiskey question next Saturday. Let Houston vote "dry," and Coffee will be safe, and all southeast Alabama will remain prohibition.

The man who stands for something is the man who counts in this life. A man who stands for nothing is usually what he stands for—nothing.

The young man should be extremely cautious in selecting the college where he will go to get his preparation for life work. A mistake in his choice might be a life long blunder.

Jefferson County voted for saloons a majority of 1128 over prohibition. The total vote for saloons was 6455 and total vote for prohibition was 5392. This is not a big majority for the largest voting county in Alabama with the largest city in the state.

The rural mail carriers of Covington county are requested to meet at Andalusia on Monday, September 4th. The purpose of this meeting is to organize Covington county's rural carriers.— Andalusia Star.

Coffee county has ordered an election to vote on the issuance of $100,000 in five per cent road bonds. The election is set for September 16th, and will probably go for bonds. Both the Elba Clipper and the Enterprise Ledger are advocating good roads and favor the bond issue.—Brundidge News.

One of the peculiarities of the Dale county farmer, he hates to drive an empty wagon. Consequently he arranges not to do it.
There's sweet potatoes, stove wood, syrup, lard, tallow, wax hides, chickens, eggs, watermelons and canteloupes. And when these are scarce, there is the never failing and always acceptable bacon and hams to fall back on.
They don't come to town empty and never fail to find a ready market for what they bring.— Ozark Tribune.

If your memory is good, you can place hundreds of good "prohibitionist,—but," of two years ago. You will find them lined up where they properly belong now—for saloons. They didn't even think then they were prohibition-ists, but thought it an excuse to vote against the amendment.
Now they show their color.

We who said two years ago that it meant whiskey or no whiskey got mobbed and cussed. Here is the same issue now—whiskey or no whiskey, with no sugar coating.—Dothan Eagle.

No one subject in the state of Alabama is awakening more interest than good roads. All over the state the different counties are falling into line and issuing bonds for the improvement of the public highways.

The people of the state are beginning to recognize the great expense of the ordinary country road in the wearing out of teams and vehicles as well as the slow time which the state of the roads compel the drivers to make when passing over them with loaded teams. The element of time is a great consideration in a busy season and the difference in the amount which can be pulled over good and bad roads by the same teams is making a deep impression on those who have to use them.—X.

the indomitable courage, persevering industry, great ability, and unflattering patriotism of its edi-

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tract, Calif., "I have ever found." They make sick, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at Harp Drug Co.

Important News To Calomel Users.

Dodson's Liver-Tone is a Perfect Vegetable Substitute for Calomel and is Guaranteed Absolutely Harmless.

If you have trouble with constipation or biliousness, be careful how you take calomel, because calomel is a form of mercury, and if mercury remains in the system very long, it will salivate and seriously injure the strongest person that ever lived.

If you need something to start the liver to working take Dodson's Liver-Tone. It is a harmless vegetable liquid which will loosen up the liver better than calomel does and without any bad after effects. No restriction of habit or diet is necessary. Dodson's Liver-Tone is as safe for children as it is for grown people and everybody like its taste.

Buy a bottle for fifty cents from Elba Drug Co. and if you do not find that it absolutely takes the place of calomel, this drug store will give you your money back if you ask for it.
